NO UNDUE DELAY IN BUILDING RAILWAY

Edmonton, Feb. 15.—The Alberta government has received assurance from President Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway that every consideration will be given to the proposition to extend the Lacombe and Northwestern Railway to Edmonton. In a message to Premier Brownlee, the C.P.R. president states that if investigations disclose that an extension of the Lacombe and Northwestern to a point on the C. and E. could be constructed with the prospect of a proper return on the investment, favorable consideration to the building of it within a reasonable time will be given.

Over Two Hundred Volumes Are Already on the Library Shelves

Since last week's issue of The Times, great interest has been taken in the new library. Donations of books have been steadily coming in. Last Saturday afternoon the country districts sent in donations and some of the visitors called with books. The president of the library committee expressed the benefit it would be to them to be able to get the loan of books for the week between their visits to town. The first unit of shelving in the Council Chamber has been installed and is already full, with over 200 volumes. The Council have appointed the new members to comprise the Library Board as will be seen from the account of the Council meeting in this issue, and as soon as a meeting can be held arrangements will be made to start lending. In the meantime any other who have any books to spare that they can see their way to donate to the library will confer a benefit to their community.

Live Stock Men Will Link Up With the Provincial Pool

At a largely attended meeting of the Livestock Contractors' association of the district on Tuesday, Feb. 14th, in the U.F.A. Hall, it was decided to link up with the Provincial Pool, and commence shipping from this point on Wednesday every two weeks.

A. B. Claypool, M.L.A., gave a very interesting account of the progress made by the Pool and showed that by marketing a large percentage of the hogs on the Edmonton and Calgary Stockyards that the Alberta price has been advanced from 50c to 75c under the Winnipeg price to 25c and 50c higher than that price. He showed that the underlying idea of the Pool was orderly, systematic marketing, similar to the Wheat Pool.

Mr. Bullock, of the Ponoka Livestock Pool, was present with figures of payments made to farmers there during the last six months and a contrast of the prices paid at the two points showed that Ponoka paid on an average from 40c to 50c per hundred higher than was paid at Wetaskiwin. The first shipment to the Pool will be made from Wetaskiwin on Wednesday, February 22nd.

You would not be ashamed of your stationery if it had been printed at The Times office.

One of the very earliest settlers of the Wetaskiwin district passed away at the Wetaskiwin hospital on Sunday evening in the person of John Dowswell, at the advanced age of eighty-two years, three months and five days. On account of his advanced years and the shock, he gradually weakened until last week, when pneumonia set in and the end came rapidly. He was born near the city of Hamilton, Ont., and lived there until about thirty-six years ago, when he came to Wetaskiwin and homesteaded in the Lewisville district, where he resided until the time of the accident.

He is survived by his son, Edward, of Lewisville, and one son and two daughters near Hamilton. He was of a retiring disposition and was held in the highest esteem by his neighbors and those who knew him.

The funeral took place from the First United church, Wetaskiwin, on Wednesday afternoon, service being conducted by Rev. A. L. Elliott. The interment was in the Wetaskiwin cemetery.

Professor Corbett Tells Kiwanis of Lord Selkirk and His Pioneers

Professor Corbett of the University of Alberta, was the speaker at the regular Tuesday luncheon of the Wetaskiwin Kiwanis Club.

Illustrating his lecture with lantern slides, the Professor outlined the story of Lord Selkirk and his colonists. The conditions among the crofters of the Scottish Highlands, the speaker said, led the fifth Earl of Selkirk to what proved to be his life work.

There were in all three efforts at colonization made by the Scottish Earl. The first settlement was in Prince Edward Island, where 800 colonists arrived in the year 1803. It was pointed out that the descendants of these early settlers formed a large proportion of the population of the island at the present time.

A second settlement, the Baldon farm, located at what is now known as the St. Clair Plains in Kent County, Ont., was practically wiped out in the year of 1812.

The last and most daring experiment at colonization undertaken by Lord Selkirk was the Red River Settlement. This settlement was situated on the site where the city of Winnipeg now stands. The settlement appeared to be doomed to hardship right from the arrival of the first batch of settlers in August, 1812. It was wiped out on the occasion of the Seven Oaks Massacre. ### Quartette of Local Students Tackling Oratorical Contest

Four students of the local High School, all boys, have entered in the Provincial Oratorical Contest by two of the city newspapers. These are Theodore Appel, Grade IX, Frank Morrison, Morgan French and Earl Mellett all of Grade XII. The contest will consist of a ten minute oration on "Canada's Future." A large number of schools have entered and many students are eagerly striving after a free trip to Edmonton with prospects of even greater honor. These schools in which more than one contestant is entered will hold their elimination contests on or before March 2nd. The winners in the various schools in this district will compete in Wetaskiwin not later than March 16th, and the student adjudged the ablest orator will proceed to Edmonton for the finals of the northern part of the province. This contest eventually widens out into an international one. Last year Washington was the scene of this great event, where five national champions staged a brilliant battle. A Mexican student carried off the grand honor, with France a close second and Canada third. The U.S. and England were the other entries. Particulars regarding the district honors will be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. Madonna

His name was Varsity, but we called him Varse. We had to have a short name for a dog that climbed over a ten-foot fence built to keep him in, swinging by his teeth from the clothes hanging on the line and curled up on our laps when he was a big dog just as he had done in his puppy days.

We loved him in spite of his faults or perhaps because of them, or maybe because he was so beautiful. He plumed tall, his glistening white hair with jet-black spots, his tricky way of holding his head to one side, made him the most superb and showy English setter I have ever seen.

So when we were sick with distemper I was as sick with worry as he was, and William, my husband, did not feel any too well himself.

When Varse got better, William suggested we move to the beach, where the air would be purer. Los Angeles was quite congested where we lived. Venice was the nearest beach and William could motor to the city every day. There we found a small bungalow court arranged much the same way that George Primrose seated his minstrels. The landlady's bungalow was at the top of the horseshoe of bungalows and she could overlook the little park made by the front yards of the tiny six houses she rented, three being on each side.

William, who likes to give people nicknames, called the landlady Mrs. Gamp. She did not like the idea of having a dog in her court, but William told her he was considering buying a court, and as she had been trying to sell for a long time she relented and let us move in. Most any property owner in California can be placated by hinting you might buy his holdings.

A new woman lived next to the lady and went to work at her Career every day. She always told Varse—not to come near her, so we called her Mrs. Aneur. No one lived in the house next to us for two weeks, then a new family moved in. The landlady promptly called Mr. and Mrs. Madonna, because they had a baby and the father seemed just as concerned as the mother in caring for it.

Behind the curtains everyone in the court watched them move in and wondered how soon they would lend the baby. Alas! We found that was never to be. The baby was being brought up according to modern child culture methods and was not to be handled around. He was fed at proper intervals, slept at regular times and was not picked up when he cried.

The last rule made the trouble between us, for the baby invariably waked at about midnight and cried. Poor little dear, I knew in a minute he was afraid of the dark. I am myself to this day. But his parents would not comfort him and he cried until exhausted, which was usually about two hours. Varse, the dear thing, knew the baby was afraid and he barked as long as the baby cried, trying to make him know he was guarded.

Then Mr. Madonna actually came over and told us it was Varse's barking that made the baby cry. More he said, after William had told him it was the baby that made Varse bark, that he would have the law on us. The very ideal!

But he did.

J. E. BUCHANAN
Teacher of Pianoforte
Phone 228
Wetaskiwin, Alberta

He complained to the authorities, and a man wearing a badge came to the door and told our dog had been reported as a nuisance by barking, and we would have to keep him quiet or get rid of him.

William is so resourceful and he sat nothing at all except of course to me, but he went to the landlady and bought the court, paying $500 down. Then he told the Madonnas they would have to move, as he had bought the property and would not have any children in his bungalows. The Madonnas were very impertinent and said they would be glad to move and that they had intended doing that very thing in about a month.

One day when I was in the kitchen Mrs. Madonna put the baby out on the sand in a blanket where she could watch him from her window. He could walk just a little. I wanted to hold him a few minutes so badly that I went to the front porch with my sewing to be out of temptation. While I was there an agent came with a vacuum cleaner and demonstrated it to Mrs. Madonna. She was a born housekeeper, and she was so interested in the cleaner that the time went faster than she thought, so when she finally went to look for the baby he was not there.

We had plenty to be frightened about. The court was between the electric railway and the motor boulevard, and beyond that was the beach and the sea. Frantically, we searched in every bungalow, then we rushed along the railway tracks and into the boulevard. In no time at all automobiles were lined up both ways for a half mile or more and a vast crowd was helping us search, but the baby could not be found.

Suddenly a shout rang out, a joyous shout, taken up happily by the anxious throng. The baby was found.

In the short time his mother had left him he had incredibly made his way to an abandoned beach umbrella in the sands about a half block away, that is, if there had been houses and it had been called a street. There he lay asleep through all the commotion. And Varse lay beside him, with the baby's dress caught firmly in his teeth.

Things were immediately different. That night when the baby cried his mother was at his side at once. She was so glad to have him there. He only cried a few minutes and Varse only barked while he cried. It was just as I thought it was all along. The baby was afraid.

Nothing more was said about Varse barking or about children being permitted in the court, indeed, William sold the court and we moved to the foothills. The Madonnas moved, too, and live next door to us. The mountain air is so good for children and, besides, I want Mrs. Madonna to help me a little with my own dear baby. She has been so successful in bringing up her own.

ABNORMAL AND DIS-COLORED SEED WHEAT

If seed wheat contains abnormal or discolored kernels a first class crop cannot be grown to maturity, even under ideal climatic conditions. Weather conditions, such as prevalent in the prairie provinces of Canada during the harvest time of 1927, tended to bring out these abnormalities and discolorations in grain to a more marked extent than usual.

Shrivelled, shrunken and plumped or blistered wheat should be avoided. Shrivelled or shrunken kernels may be the result of badly rusted wheat or may be indicative of the presence of a fungus within the seed, while frozen wheat has a plumped or blistered seed coat. A nummiform kernel which is white to gray in color is typical of the presence of a very serious and destructive fungous disease.

Discolorations such as green, pink and black are also very common. Green kernels denote lack of maturity, while the cause of the distinct pinkish discoloration so often found is not definitely known. Blackened kernels are typical of the presence of a number of different wheat parasites. If the tip of the germ end is inky black in color bacteria are very frequently the cause. If blackening is evident at different places on the seed coat, fungi, which cause root diseases of cereals, are often present.

During the last two years experiments have been conducted at the laboratory at the Saskatchewan University, to study the importance of such abnormalities and discolorations as are mentioned above, and the results signify that it is a very serious practice to sow wheat of this kind. In all cases germination is reduced and the plants which survive are very often weak and sickly in appearance. By sowing such wheat the farmer in many cases may introduce disease producing fungi into his land.

Wise and careful selection of seed wheat is of the utmost importance. Ordinary seed cleaning methods such as are used by the average farmer will

Our Ottawa Letter

(By The Times Correspondent)

Parliament opened with the usual ceremonial displays: pageants, receptions, etc., and the orders of the day on such occasions which, at the best, have but a dim historic significance. The only practical value apparent, of the whole extravagant show is the stimulation given to the trade of those who deal in furbies and false-rais for the decoration of women.

The motion which has occupied the attention of Parliament since the opening day until the time of writing and which will likely be considered presently by the House for another three or four days at least, is: "That an address be presented to His Excellency the Governor-General, offering the humble thanks of this House to His Excellency for the gracious speech which he has been pleased to make to both Houses of Parliament."

It will be apparent that the resolution itself contains nothing of a contentious nature. It is merely a formal vote of thanks to His Excellency the Governor-General. But according to the practices of Parliament, this formal motion opens up a discussion on the subject matter contained in the speech from the Throne. And as that speech is prepared by the Prime Minister and is supposed to set forth the legislation of the session, the field of discussion becomes as wide as the national interests. In other words, members of the House are quite in order while speaking to the formal motion quoted above.

(a) When they deal with any or all matters mentioned in the speech from the Throne.

(b) When they deal with any or all matters not mentioned.

So when an Honorable Member has the liberty to wander over all that is mentioned and all that is not mentioned in any document he has a very considerable latitude.

Perhaps the real reason why this ancient practice is still continued notwithstanding its waste of time and boredom, is that theoretically it does afford an opportunity for the Government to get the views of Parliament on matters of national importance. And again, theoretically, this discussion gives opportunity early in the session for the Government to shape its legislative program in accordance with the expressed wishes of the representatives of the people. But, alas for the well laid theories of mice and men.

However, spokesmen from each party or group in the House have presented or will present the ideas of the parties or groups they represent. Mr. Gardiner, Mr. Garland and Mr. Kennedy were selected to present the U. F. A. views. Mr. Gardiner reviewed in a general way the whole economic situation from a national standpoint. Mr. Garland made a special plea for a national coal policy which would give a proper freight rate on Alberta coal, while Mr. Kennedy made a plea for a higher standard of living for the coal population as an answer to the Government's claim of prevailing prosperity. In other words, a prosperity which is always stalked by the shadow of poverty and a prosperity which affords the bare necessities are nothing to boast about.

Our U. F. A. Group has been very busy appointing its committees and clearing the decks for the business of the session. A number of resolutions on the order paper have been sponsored by members of our group. I will give these resolutions in order that readers who may be interested in the matters with which the resolutions deal may take note of what occurs when they are presented to the House:

(1) Mr. Luchovich proposed resolution: Whereas the Technical Education Act is due to expire on March 3rd, 1929; Whereas the program entered upon has not reached the stage of permanency that assures its continuance without federal aid because of the economic situation during the period of its development; Be it resolved that this House strongly recommend the continuance of the Technical Education grant for a further period of ten years.

(2) Mr. Speaker proposed resolution: Whereas there are many former members of the C.E.F. who are totally incapacitated, but who are not pensionable under the provisions of the present Pension Act; And whereas it is seemingly impossible at this time to prove that this incapacity is directly attributable to war service; And whereas the care of these men is a responsibility which properly belongs to the Federal Government and should not be borne by either the Provincial or Municipal authorities; Therefore be it resolved: That in the opinion of this House, the Pension Act should be so amended during this session of Parliament as to provide for the payment of pensions to all former members of the C.E.F. who are totally incapacitated, even when attributiveness to war service cannot be proven in such cases.

(3) Mr. Coote proposed resolution: Whereas there is a large body of public opinion that believes that the establishment of a Government Central Bank with adequate discounting powers would add to the stability of our banking system; would afford additional credit facilities needed under present business conditions and would contribute materially to the more rapid development of the natural resources of the country; Therefore, be it resolved: That a Central Bank of redemptive and note issue be established in Canada.

(4) Mr. H. E. Spencer proposed resolution: Moved that in the opinion of this House, the estimates should be referred to Select Committee before being submitted to the Committee of the whole.

(5) Mr. Irvine proposed resolution: Whereas, it is the existing policy of this country, that reasonable preparation should be made for self-defence in case of any war involving Canada; And whereas, such preparation if undertaken, should be both adequate, and of such a character as to make war less likely to occur; Therefore be it resolved, that in the opinion of this House, it is advisable that legislation be enacted providing that on the declaration of war involving Canada, all natural resources and essential services, including transportation facilities, industrial plants and commercial and financial agencies, should automatically be conscripted for National Service for the duration of the war.

but was re-established the following year with the arrival of Lord Selkirk, who was accompanied by 90 colonists from his native parish of Kildonan. From then on until as late as 1830 the settlers fought against every conceivable form of hardship.

In conclusion, the speaker said that while Lord Selkirk had made his mistakes, and brought upon himself considerable worry as a result of his rash treatment of the officials of the North-West Company at Fort William, nevertheless his untimely death which took place in April of 1820, was a severe blow to the interests of colonization in Canada. As it is the descendants of the Selkirk Settlers have played a large part in the development of our Dominion.

PEOPLE IN NEW YORK SEE MAN AND WOMAN IN LONDON

Hartdale, N.Y., Feb. 10.—A man and a woman sat before an electric eye in a London laboratory Wednesday night and a group of people in a darkened cellar in this village outside New York watched them turn their heads and move from side to side.

The images were crude, imperfect, broken, but they were images none the less. The vision had spanned the ocean; trans-Atlantic television was a demonstrated reality and one more great dream of science was on the way to eventual complete realization.

The transformed vision of the man and the woman in the London laboratory came through the ether in the form of a humbly hum. A musical buzz of irregular cadence representing in sound the lights and shadows of their faces—all that was transmitted in the test.

HON. PERREN BAKER FORECASTS REVISION OF ALBERTA SCHOOL ACT

Edmonton, Feb. 10.—Forecasting revision of the Alberta School Act at the 1929 session to control rural education, teachers' appointments and rural school taxation in the hands of provincial authorities instead of local boards. Hon. Perren Baker, minister of education, made the only important contribution to the debate on the speech from the throne in the Alberta legislature Friday afternoon.

The present system of 3,000 school boards trying to employ each year 3,000 teachers, he said, by economic law and human nature, inevitably resulted in the ousting of the higher priced teachers and the employment of the lower priced ones. Illustrating how the farmers, in the march of modern times, had to combine in a pool and surrender some of their independence to sell their wheat through a common agency, Mr. Baker said the same thing would have to be done in rural education. The present system of numerous boards, trying to raise money and dealing with numerous schools and teachers was obviously destructive of efficiency.

"We might," he said, "provide a tax for teacher service for all these rural schools and I am saying this now so, if we, at the next session, bring in a bill for the next new scheme of school administration, it will not come as a surprise."

Mr. Baker went on to say briefly that the biggest problem would be that of evolving a method of taxation. He was not advocating a complete centralization—the cities with their numerous schools centralized under single boards had already attained a degree of efficiency in this respect and were capable of handling them.

The problem of devising a tax to support the rural schools which would cover all the school districts in the province, and at the same time spread the burden with absolute equity was a tremendous one. It would seem that land offered the fairest basis of such a tax as it could be equalized, but the assessment of the rural areas was on a different basis from the areas in the cities.

It was because of the magnitude of this problem that the government did not intend to take up a revision of the school acts until the next session of the house.

AIRSHIPS SOON TO CARRY MAIL ACROSS OCEAN

Washington, Feb. 10.—Regular trans-Atlantic mail and passenger service by dirigible airships will be instituted within three months with the co-operation and approval of the United States Government, Secretary Hoover said Thursday in announcing the conclusion of conferences with representatives of British interests, who are responsible for the enterprise.

The dirigible R-300, now under construction in England, designed to carry 100 passengers and 10 tons of mail, is to inaugurate the new air service, on a tentative schedule that will consume 48 hours on her westward voyages and 38 hours on the eastward return.

The United States Government will loan the R-100 the use of the naval air station mooring mast and equipment at Lakehurst, N.J. Negotiations are now under way with the Postoffice Department by which the air liner will be given a special mail contract.

ALBERTA BIRTHS

15,000 LAST YEAR

Edmonton, Feb. 9.—Interim report of the Alberta public health department, tabled Thursday in the legislature, forecasts under the vital statistics branch, a total of 15,000 births in Alberta for the year 1927. Up to the time the report had been prepared, a total of 13,447 births had been registered but the department estimates that when all reports for the year are in, the total will be around 15,000.

The department also reports that 4,617 marriages have been registered to date of making up the interim report, already an increase over last year's total and greater than any of the preceding years.

Deaths to date number 4,958, and will probably reach a higher number than the preceding year's total of 5,156. The death rate will be about 9 per 1,000, indicating a population consisting mainly of people younger than in the older countries.

The report of the central Alberta sanatorium, adjacent to Calgary, shows the accommodation has been utilized to its full extent. The average patient day strength has been 178, as compared with 165 in 1926. "Slight if any increase will be possible" says the report, "unless further provision is made as regards staff and equipment. In addition to those entering the sanatorium, 291 have come to our out-patient department for examination. A follow-up department has been in operation during the last half of the year through the co-operation of the provincial tuberculosis association and examinations conducted on 190 persons.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD SEED

Last spring the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture conducted a survey at seeding time to determine the quality and condition of the seed being sown. The survey was conducted in 25 different townships scattered throughout the whole province. It was found that 97 per cent of the wheat being sown, and 95 per cent of the oats, had been put through cleaning machinery of some kind, and that 99 per cent of the farmers visited had tried some method for the control of smut. So far these percentages appear encouraging. But it was found that only 30 per cent of the wheat being sown and 16 per cent of the oats could be graded as either No. 1 or 2 seed by the Dominion Seed Branch. In most of the rest of the seed there was the presence of varying quantities of noxious weed seeds. Some thirty different kinds of cleaning machinery were found to be in use, but there were good and bad results with each kind, so that the difference must be attributed to greater or less carelessness in the use of the machines. On the whole, it seems that in the districts surveyed the farmers last year had not given their farms quite a fair chance because of the condition of the seed. The Saskatchewan Department is to be commended for intelligently pressing upon the attention of the farmers the economic importance of good seed.

The farmers of the Wetaskiwin district can sow clean wheat by having it cleaned by the MacEachern Milling Co. Ltd., who clean the wheat through three different machines. See their advertisement on the back page.

SOMERS RINK PUTS IN STRONG BID FOR THE ALTA. CHAMPIONSHIP

Wetaskiwin Rinks Make Magnificent Showing Against Army of Opponents at Edmonton—Two in Provincial Championship

The Wetaskiwin curlers have been making a great showing at the bonspiel in Edmonton. Watty Somers' rink yesterday won in the Alberta Championship event by defeating the famous Monahan crew and worked into the four last night by securing a verdict over Taylor of Wetaskiwin. Watty was eliminated from the Grand Challenge, being defeated 14 to 10 by Hardisty in the semi-finals.

The Alberta Championship event was open to all rinks reaching the eighth of any of the open competitions. Twenty-three rinks qualified, including Somers and Taylor.

Graham was knocked out of the Grand Challenge by his fellow townsman Somers, in a very keenly fought contest.

Somers dropped out of the Bank of Montreal competition by taking the short end of a 13-12 count in a thirteen end game with Dundas, of Regina, on Tuesday.

Taylor is still going strong in the Bank of Montreal event and Graham is making a big bid for the Vickers' event.

Manahan and Kinnear are in the finals of the Hudsons Bay.

The personnel of the Wetaskiwin rinks is as follows:

Here and There

Winnipeg, the British buy immigration scheme has been adopted by the Manitoba Provincial Government, and about fifty bids will be brought here this year for placement on farms in the province.

Mr. A. Prefontaine, Minister of Immigration, announced that the boys will be placed at the Manitoba Agriculture College for preliminary training in farm work.

Calgary.—Two commercial airplane transport projects are being developed in Calgary. One calls for the use of airplanes carrying twelve persons each, to be used principally for passenger, freight and mail traffic between Calgary and Edmonton; the other calls for lighter machines, two or three passengers, for Calgary-Edmonton and mountain flight purposes.

All the way from Canmore, Alta., to Glasgow, Scotland, unaccompanied, a distance of approximately 5,000 miles is the record of Donald James Campbell, nine years of age. He took the All-Red route of the C.P.R. across the Dominion to Saint John, where he embarked on the liner Montclare bound for Glasgow. He is visiting his aunt, who lives in Busby, Glasgow.

All previous records in connection with the westbound movement of grain to Vancouver over Canadian Pacific Railway lines were broken during the first two weeks in January, according to E. Cotterell, superintendent of transportation, western line of the company. Deliveries at Vancouver by the Canadian Pacific during the fortnight in question totalled approximately 22,500, 000 bushels of grain.

Calgary.—Farm land values in Southern Alberta are tending to become firm as the result of the series of good crops, and more inquiries for farm acreage have been received in the last few months, according to real estate men, than in any similar period in the past five or six years.

Calgary.—The demand for farms both for purchase and rental is decidedly strong.

In recognition of the fine work by officers of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National during the last summer tour of the second triennial Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress, presentations of gold and enamel-off links were made recently to fifteen employees of both companies, at a dinner held in Montreal. E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and Sir Henry Thornton of the C.N.R., were both present.

Snowshoe week in Quebec got away to a good start when several thousand members of the Raquette Club paraded the streets of the old city and later some 1,800 snowshoers in full winter festival costume made an attack on the walls defended by the garrison and illuminated by a brilliant fireworks display. The chief center of interest there in the International Dog Derby, which is to be staged shortly and for this, visitors from the entire Dominion and the United States are flocking to Quebec, taking the Chateau Frontenac to its full capacity.

AVOID THAT COLD

(By Barbara B. Brooks)

Many persons are resigned to having one or two colds every winter, and will not believe that it is possible to avoid having them. If you are subject to colds, first of all consult your doctor and find out if there is a removable cause such as adenoids or tonsils. Next take stock of yourself and find out if all your habits make for health.

Do you take daily exercise? Walk to and from work if possible, join a gymnasium class, or take setting-up exercises. Get plenty of sleep—sleep restores spent energy and strengthens resistance to colds. Be sure that your house and office are well ventilated. Wear warm light clothing and keep your feet dry.

Fully as important as any of the foregoing suggestions is your daily menu. Do not over-eat. Choose foods which will keep the intestines clean, and drink plenty of water. Breakfast is essential both to the child going to school and to the worker. It is a good plan for father to set an example by eating a wholesome breakfast. Fruit first for an appetizer, then a cereal, an egg, toast or bran muffins, and cocoa. This may be too substantial for some of us. In that case there are many simpler menus. Fruit, ready-to-eat cereal with milk and a hot drink; hot cereal cooked with dried fruit; fruit, Graham bread toast and cocoa are all good combinations.

Keep your system regulated by foods such as bran, whole grain cereals, dark breads, fruits and vegetables. Clogged machinery is the first to break down. A cold catches the person who has not kept fit.

As a final precaution against colds, keep the nose, mouth and throat clean. A salt water gargle is a cleansing solution and leaves a pleasant taste. Use this before going to bed. Don't let a cold catch you—it won't if you don't give it a head start.

THE DIM VISTA

She was a gay young flapper, though she posed as a demure maiden. He was a bit of a flirt, though he cultivated an assumption of staidness.

As he implanted a kiss upon her lips she said: "Am I the first girl you ever kissed?" "Why—no! really, really, really," he replied, "but your face seems familiar."

COULD NOT SLEEP HEART AND NERVES WERE SO BAD

Mr. John R. Novacevsky, Humboldt, Sask. writes: "I suffered with my heart and nerves and was so bad I could not sleep for the dizziness in my head. My head was in a whirl, and I was so nervous, at times, I did not know what to do."

"I was worried over my work, which was neglected because I could not do it, and this together with the pains made me worse every day."

"I tried all sorts of medicine, but of no avail, so I consulted a physician, but was just as bad as ever."

"Finally I received one of your almanacs and read how

Double-Disk Front Seed Delivery

Ask any user of a McCormick, Deering, or International grain drill why he likes it and his answer in most cases will be that the front seed delivery places every seed in the bottom of the furrow where it is evenly covered and grows uniformly with all other seeds in the field.

The front seed delivery, which is a regular feature on these drills, drops the seed ahead of the disc bearing and thus prevents scattering and waste. It also prevents uneven growth because every seed gets the same degree of moisture and consequently the whole field grows and ripens together.

A European Tour

(By F. E. Kerr, B.A., Peterborough)

From Arras we went to Paris. Paris has been described as having little else than sunshine, safety and life. It is the paradise of pleasure-seekers, painters, musicians, and sculptors. It has beautiful streets, magnificent squares, delightful parks, and majestic buildings. To describe it adequately is impossible. It is the chief show city of Europe. I will attempt to describe just a few of its striking features. The most beautiful street is the Champs-Élysées Avenue. It is very wide with rows of symmetrical trees much like our maples. At one end is the Place de la Concorde which has been described as the most magnificent square in the world with its obelisk of Luxor, its sparkling fountains, and colossal statues; yet this square was the spot where Louis XVI, Marie Antoinette, and thousands of the nobles were guillotined at the time of the French Revolution. On a hill crossing the street is the Arc de Triomphe (Triumphal Arch), said to be the largest in the world. It was built in honor of Napoleon and its ornamentation aims to depict Napoleon's great victories. Here is the unknown soldier's grave, and from this centre twelve

A pleasant evening was spent with music and games, and a fine luncheon. Mrs. Dunn and children had returned last week from an extended visit at Dauphin, Man., and this was a fine welcome home.

Below is a part of a letter received by Mr. J. R. K. Graham from Mr. G. A. Wagner, who is at present in Los Angeles: "I am having a fine time here in the beautiful sunshine, seeing roses and other flowers. Went bathing in the ocean Jan. 29. I met my niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pfundstein, of Erie, Ill., with whom I took a trip to Town, when on my visit in Ill. nearly three years ago. We three took a trip to Mount Lowe Feb. 1st. Left the terminal station at 9 o'clock on the electric car, rode to the foothills, then took a cable car up a steep incline of 3000 feet, then took an electric car to Mount Lowe, Tavern, which is 3 1/2 miles. There were 127 curves and 18 bridges. We arrived at the tavern at 12 o'clock, had luncheon, then walked a short distance to the largest silver fox farm in the west, took another stroll to Inspiration Point, 4500 feet above sea level, arrived in Los Angeles at 6 o'clock. We had a wonderful day."
